TransQUAL Online

Overview

TransQUAL Online is a tool to support school district teams as they collaboratively review and improve their practices in career development and transition. TransQUAL is built on the New York State Transition Quality Indicators Self-Assessment (TQI), adapted from the work of Dr. Paula Kohler from Western Michigan University (see Taxonomy for Transition Programming: http://unix.cc.wmich.edu/~kohler). This website is developed and maintained by Cornell University’s Employment and Disability Institute, through the support and guidance of the New York State Education Department, Vocational and Educational Services for Individuals with Disabilities (NYS VESID).

TransQUAL Online is designed for use in a collaborative manner, bringing together educators, parents, student leaders, agency personnel, and business people.

TransQUAL Online supports continuous improvement, with features that encourage multiple uses and incremental systems change. For more information, contact:

Features of TransQUAL Online

Password-Protected Accounts: Each educational program has its own unique account. When a TransQUAL planning team signs in, they view their contact information, team members, and the results of previous planning efforts.

Collaborative Self-Assessment – The self-assessment portion of TransQUAL Online is made up of 66 Transition Quality Indicators (TQI), which have been sorted into 5 categories:

1. Educational Program Structure
2. Interagency and Interdisciplinary Collaboration
3. Family Involvement
4. Student Involvement
5. Student Development

Collaborative planning teams have the opportunity to select one or more of these areas for further study. Planning teams quickly prioritize one or more indicators for work plan development.

Work Plan Development – Once an indicator has been selected for work plan development, TransQUAL Online brings the planning team to a work plan development web page.

When a work plan is completed and saved, the planning team has a printer-friendly document for distribution to team members and other stakeholders.

Impact Measurement – Completed Work Plans can be collaboratively reviewed by team members through an online Impact Report, linking Work Plan activities with results for students.

Resource Links and a Discussion Forum – TransQUAL Online planning teams can navigate to a list of Internet links, organized by the 5 categories above, of effective national practices and resources. Teams may also engage in threaded discussions to make announcements or pose questions to our growing TransQUAL Online community.

Once your team has a Username and Password, the planning process can begin.
Registration

Member Type
Teams who are using TransQUAL Online to improve their local educational programs should select District/Program from the top pull-down menu.

Transition Coordination Site
From the pull-down menu, select the Transition Coordination Site that serves your educational program. If you do not know this information, go to: http://www.vesid.nysed.gov/specialed/transition/tcslist.htm

To obtain a TransQUAL Online username and password, your team contact person will need to identify the type and location of your educational program. Your educational program may be a school, a school district, a department, an agency, a BOCES/NYC regional program, or some other type of service. To accommodate the variety of services and schools that exist in New York State, TransQUAL Online has a progressive registration form, allowing teams to stop at any point, complete their contact information, and wait for their username and password to arrive via email. It is important to continue this process until you have provided as much information as possible, so that we may provide future technical support.

BOCES/ NYC Regions
Select your team’s BOCES or New York City Region from the pull-down menu.

Click on the Continue button for the next set of options.

Note: If your program is regional in nature, spanning more than one school district, skip this step and complete the information at the bottom, clicking “Process Request” at the bottom of this page.
School  If your team represents one School, select which one from the pull-down menu, making sure the radio button is pushed next to the word School. If your educational program spans more than one school, or is an agency or some other program, click on the appropriate radio button and type the name of your program in the adjacent text box. If your team represents your entire school district, click on the radio button next to the word District-wide.
At the bottom of the TransQUAL Online Member Registration page are text boxes to identify your team's contact person. Please fill these out completely, so that we know how to contact you, and to email a username and password to access your account. By clicking on the Process Request button, your team is indicating that the information is complete and accurate, although this information can be updated after the team logs in.

Note: Your contact person will receive a username and password via email after we’ve reviewed your information. This can take 2-3 working days, so complete the registration well in advance of your team's first meeting.
TransQUAL Home Page

Home  By clicking on this button, your team will be brought to the beginning web page, with a description of your team's current status in the planning process.

Discussion Forum  A pop-up threaded discussion web page will appear, allowing teams to pose questions or post announcements to registered contributors or read questions and answers posted previously.

Contact Us  A pop-up web page will provide contact information for the TransQUAL Resource Project at Cornell University's Employment and Disability Institute.

Member Info  This area provides basic demographic information, including the name of the team's coordinator. Teams may edit their contact information and username.

Links  A pop-up list of Internet links will appear, providing an organized list of New York State and national resources.

TID Online  A pop-up web page will appear, taking teams to a password-protected web site designed to help educational programs measure their progress in serving secondary students.

Log Out  Click on this button to exit the TransQUAL Online web site.

When your team enters its Username and Password in the Log-In page, you will be brought to your team’s TransQUAL Home Page. Before entering data, it may be helpful to note time saving navigational features of TransQUAL Online. These buttons will appear on most of the web pages of TransQUAL.
Open and Closed Records

TransQUAL Online was designed for use on multiple occasions. When a team opens their TransQUAL account for the first time, all they will see is a New Record, ready to be started. A collaborative planning team may develop a TransQUAL Record over several meetings, by saving their work and logging out, and then logging back in at a later time. By looking at an Open Record, a team can quickly identify where they are in the planning process. To review and edit previous efforts in an Open Record, click on the working buttons.

Once an Open Record has been completed and closed, it becomes a Closed Record, in read-only format. The most recent Closed Record can be viewed below the Open Records. All Closed Records can be view as a pop-up web page by clicking where it reads All Closed Records.
Starting a New TransQUAL Survey

Another way for your team to know where they are in the planning process is simply to look to the right of the Open Records. The step that your team must complete in order to move forward appears in this area of the web page, after you Log-In.

Before your planning team begins its planning process, complete the following fields, so that future teams will know when and by whom this plan was created.
Survey Date

Through these pull-down menus, indicate the month and year that your team is meeting to create this survey.

Click on Save & Go to Next Step to save your work and proceed to Step 2.

TransQUAL will automatically select the current month and year. However, teams are free to select a different date at their discretion.
Planning Team Membership

Step 2: Enter Team Members

Directions: Identify the names of your team members and their roles (e.g., teacher, parent, student, agency, etc.)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Role</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Carlos Sanchez</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Frank Smith</td>
<td>special educator</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>James Jones</td>
<td>parent</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Susie Smith</td>
<td>student leader</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

As your team enters a name and a role, click Add new member to create a new window for entering additional team members.

Click where it says Delete to remove a member from the list.

Click on Save & Go to Next Step when all of your team members have been entered.

Type one name and select the role of one of your team members (e.g., John Doe – Parent, Jane Jones – Student Leader)

Your next set of directions will begin the survey itself. This requires a planning team to collaboratively make decisions about indicators and priorities. The quality of your discussions and results for students will increase in proportion to the diversity of your planning team membership. Therefore, educational programs should reach out to all potentially interested parties.

A letter or email to each potential team member, followed up by a verbal invitation, in person or by phone, is an effective recruitment strategy. Don’t ignore this important step in the planning process!

TransQUAL Planning Teams may include:

- special educators
- general educators
- guidance counselors
- work experience staff
- transition coordinators
- parents
- student leaders
- employers
- administrators
- VESID counselors
- CBVH counselors
- Independent Living Center staff
- Workforce Development (One-Stop) staff
- community agency personnel
- Other: (specify)
Planning Team Leadership

Your team will be engaging in an important discussion regarding the direction of your educational program and the future lives of your students. In most instances, designating a team coordinator will enhance the quality of the collaboration. Some coordinators like to take charge and make most of the decisions for the group. However, for this process a facilitative approach to leadership is recommended. In other words, the team coordinator should:

- Establish team meeting times and locations
- Distribute copies of planning documents to all team members before each meeting
- Share responsibilities for gathering district information and data
- Actively listen to team members’ concerns and ideas during the planning process to build consensus
- Incorporate language provided by team members into the narrative of the Work Plan
- Share responsibilities for implementing and monitoring activities to support any Work Plans created

Team members should consider themselves individually and collectively responsible to maintain a productive and open atmosphere for discussion. Complements paid to each other for work completed can only move this process forward. If you are fortunate enough to have a computer available that is connected to the Internet, identify a person to perform data entry “live” into TransQUAL during team discussions.

Note: It is always a good idea to keep notes on paper, just in case technology fails!
This is the first page for your planning team to consider. By checking boxes next to each preliminary question, your team is determining which topics to develop through self-study and Work Plan development.

Preliminary Questions

Step 3: Discuss Preliminary Questions

Directions: Discuss each question, then check boxes next to topics for focused team assessment and planning.

Check Boxes

Check boxes to indicate “Focus Area(s)” next to the questions where your team believes a Work Plan may be necessary to support further development. This is a time for careful group discussion. When group consensus is in doubt, or for a more thorough, baseline assessment the first time through, it is recommended to check all of these boxes.

Link to Resources

Click on the web links below each question to jump to the Resource Links (see page 31). This will provide your team with immediate information about each preliminary question and an opportunity to pose questions to a larger Internet community for ideas and suggestions.

Save Your Work

Click on “Save & Go to Next Step” when each of the preliminary questions has been carefully considered and one or more boxes have been checked.
Step 4: Complete Assessment

Directions: Rate all indicators 1-5 and check "Change Desired?" boxes next to indicators for Work Plan development.

5 = Exemplary, can educate others about this issue
4 = Indicator evident across all situations
3 = Indicator evident across some, but not all, situations
2 = Indicator not evident, planning is underway
1 = Indicator not evident, no planning has been initiated

Important It is best to use objective data assembled by your planning team when determining these ratings. This could include student academic scores, VESID reports, Post-School Indicator Study reports, school district report card and student “PD” information, or any other measurements conducted by your educational program.

4.0 Student Involvement

Question: Do students actively participate in a process of vocational assessment, IEP development, academic and career planning to achieve desired educational and adult outcomes?

4a1 Quality

Student Participation

Students are prepared through curricular activities to participate in transition planning.

4a2 Quality

Student Participation

Self-determination (choice-making) is facilitated within the planning process.

4a3 Compliance

Student Participation

Students are invited to participate in the transition planning process.

Quality  By selecting this indicator for Work Plan development, your team is creating an effective practice toward enhancing student transition outcomes.

Compliance  By selecting this indicator for Work Plan development, your team is addressing an area covered by New York State regulations.

As your planning team completes the ratings on the TQI portion of the survey, you will notice that indicators are labeled either Quality or Compliance. These labels will help you to determine which indicators to develop into Work Plans for improvement.

Selecting a “Quality” indicator does not preclude work on issues of compliance. Depending on the nature and scope of the Work Plan, compliance indicators may be addressed as a result of work on a broader topic. For instance, strategies for developing student self-determination (4a2, above) may include inviting students to participate in transition meetings (4a3) as required by regulation.

Proceed through all of the ratings to the bottom of the web page. The subsequent sections of this guide concern the development of a Work Plan to improve the practices and outcomes of your transitioning students.
Work Plan Selection

After your planning team has selected one or more indicators to improve, each indicator selected will be gathered onto one screen. Your team must now review each of these indicators to decide which one(s) should be chosen for Work Plan development. Return to this web page to prioritize and develop more indicators, or edit existing Work Plans.

Click on at least one indicator to move on to the Strategic Work Plan.
Work Plan Development - The Basics

Step 6: Complete Work Plan

Directions: Type details of the Work Plan in each of the text boxes.

<tr>

<th>Student Participation</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Number:</td>
<td>4a3</td>

<tr>
<td>Indicator:</td>
<td>Students are invited to participate in the transition planning process.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Current Rating:</td>
<td>3 = Indicator evident across some, but not all, situations</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Current Status:

How would your team describe this issue as it currently exists?
What, exactly, is the issue?

Desired Outcome:

Overall, how would your team like to see this issue improve?
What is your team’s vision?

Desired Rating:

4 – Indicator evident across all situations

The Strategic Work Plan is divided into boxes.

At the top of the Work Plan is the topic area, name and reference number of the indicator your team has selected, and the current rating your team has assigned this indicator. Your Work Plan should directly relate to and support the improvement of this indicator’s rating.

The following boxes expand to include your teams planning narrative. Whenever possible, refer to actions or conditions that can be observed or measured. Each box can best be explained by answering the related questions contained in each box.
Work Plan Development - Tasks

</tr>
</tbody>

Overall Strategy:

How will your team go about achieving the desired outcome, in general? What is the framework within which your team will operate?

Task

Indicate an observable behavior, done by and individual or individuals

Edit Click this button to change the task, person(s) responsible, or date.

Add Task Click this button to add the task to your team’s task list.

The next section includes a tool for creating a task list, organized in the order of the Due Date, indicated on the far right side of the frame.
Work Plan Development - Accountability

Funding Sources:

How will your team pay for the tasks indicated above?
What sort of in-kind contributions can your team identify?

How results will be measured and documented:

How will your team know if your Work Plan was successful?
Are there people or things that can be counted or observed for signs of improvement?

How results will be used to revise strategies:

What is your team’s reflective process?
When and where will your team meet again to discuss your progress, change tasks and/or develop a new TransQUAL Work Plan?

How results will be shared internally and externally:

How will your team celebrate the results of this Work Plan?
Who will be informed of your team’s accomplishments, and how?

Three Key Questions to Ask Your Team:

1. Does your team’s plan support improvement in your chosen TQI indicator?

2. Is your team’s plan measurable?

3. Have you involved the school district administration (e.g., building principal, superintendent) in the development and implementation of the Work Plan?

The next set of boxes relate to educational reform in New York State.

When your planning team has checked off all of the appropriate boxes, click on Save Work Plan to save your work and stay on this page.

Click on Save & Return to Work Plan List to save your work and return to the Select Work Plan web page.

Connect your plan to New York State Education Department goals and key performance indicators, by checking off boxes that relate to your Work Plan.

Your planning team can use these items to structure your measurement tools and give weight to your plan.

This will also help your team to obtain funding, by linking your efforts to New York State policy and initiatives. This document will become part of a general movement in the state to improve student performance and outcomes.
Create Additional Work Plans

When all of the Work Plans are finalized and your team has completed its planning, these selections will be saved in a “View Only” format and cannot be revised. However, the next planning team may find it useful to look at this page in years to come to discover what your team was concerned about, but chose not to develop into a course of action.
When a team is ready to implement their Work Plan, they should click where it reads Close Record, saving their work in a printer-friendly, read-only format.

NOTE: The TransQUAL workplan from January, 2006 has a missing or incomplete impact report.

Once a team closes their record, they are now free to implement their Work Plan. The next time that the team logs in to their account, they can either begin a new TransQUAL Record, or they can complete an Impact Report.
Select Work Plan - Impact Report

Step 5: Select Work Plan

Directions: Select indicators for work plan development by clicking the "Create New Strategic Work Plan" link.

Transition Quality Indicators

After clicking where it reads, Complete Impact Report, the team will return to the Select Work Plan page, where they can either view their previous work plans, or complete Impact Reports to measure the impact of their efforts. Click where it reads Measure Impact for 3a1Work Plan to begin your team’s reflective process for that Work Plan.

At the top of the Impact Report is information about your most recent TransQUAL Record, including the Work Plan date, the Transition Quality Indicator addressed by the Work Plan, and the 1-5 rating that your planning team assigned to that Indicator when your team developed this Record.
Impact Report - Tasks

The TransQUAL Impact Report automatically displays the task list from your team’s most recent TransQUAL Work Plan. Click the radio buttons to indicate if the task has been fully or partially completed, or if no progress has been made. Also, indicate in the next field the extent to which any additional or revised tasks were addressed.

As a team, reflect on your most recent TransQUAL Work Plan and make a list of what was successful, easy, and/or fun. Agree on the top three and enter those in the “positive experiences” text boxes.

Next, create a list of what was unsuccessful, difficult, and/or unpleasant about completing your most recent Work Plan. Agree on the top three of these, and enter those in the “negative experiences” text boxes.

At this point, the Impact Report asks for information regarding the current status of the Transition Quality Indicator. From the pull-down menu select a 1-5 rating that describes the current status of your educational program in relation to the Transition Quality Indicator at the top of the Impact Report. In the next field provide observable details about why your planning team has chosen this new rating. What, exactly, has changed? Be specific! For example, your team could describe a new work experience program, and indicate the number of students who are receiving this service, who would not have been served otherwise.

Next, enter your team’s future plans, building on your experiences with TransQUAL. Also indicate the assistance your team anticipates it will need to continue the improvement process.
